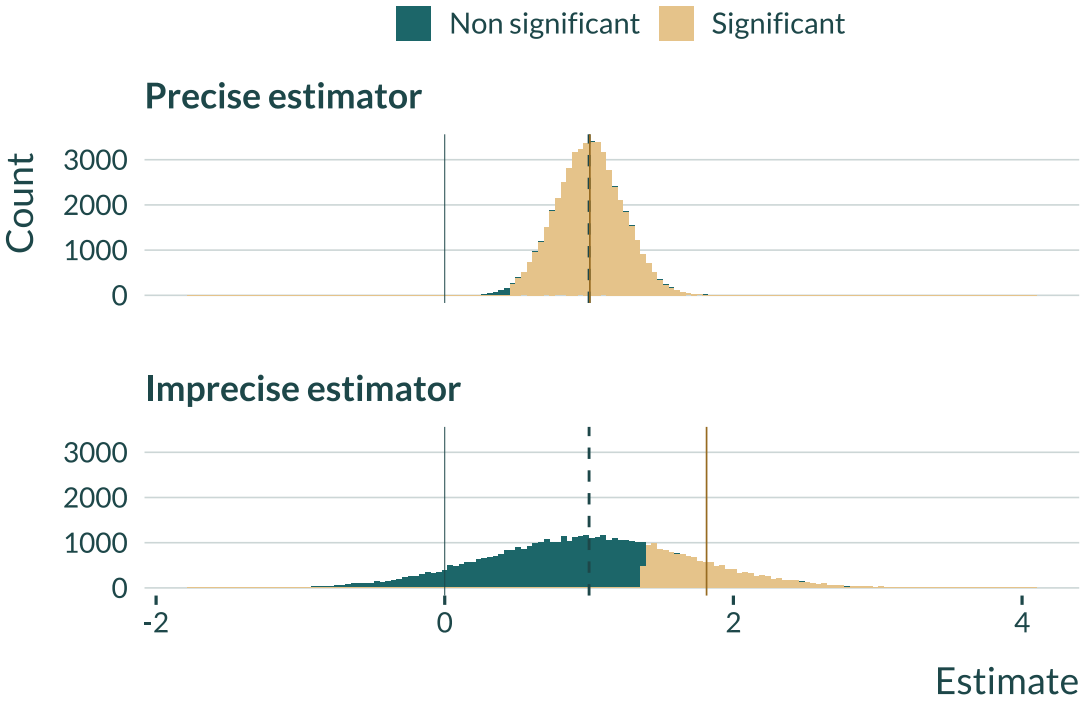
Imprecise estimators can cause exaggeration



The green dashed line represents the true effect size
The brown solid line represents the average of significant estimates